

Dear Students and Staff

The university is fully aware of the many issues being faced by students and staff and is working hard to deal with them in the current situation and is also engaging in future planning for when the situation will allow for normal activities to resume.

UTM is in regular communication with the ministries and taking note of official information being issued.

For clarity, please note that all deadlines for module assignments and assessments, including for dissertations, are postponed until further notice. Communication will be issued when the university resumes its activities normally. You are advised to keep in touch with your lecturers via email, and to check the UTM website and UTM student Facebook page. Try to use your time profitably by engaging in self-study, guided by your lecturers who will communicate with you by email initially.

Stay safe, stay well.
